

Our spiritual practice for January is Practicing Resistance.

“Our resistance is not predicated on how likely it will be to alter the conscience of the oppressor. We resist to retain our own conscience. And to awaken all others who are still in possession of their own souls.”

~Cole Arthur Riley

“ Looking back, looking forward: Reflections from our Transylvania Pilgrimage”

The Pilgrims with Rev. Mary

The OUUC pilgrims who traveled to Transylvania share their personal experience of the people and places where Unitarian beliefs emerged, offering the opportunity for us to reflect on our own Unitarian Universalist pluralistic spiritual journey.

Reflection Questions:

1. What pilgrimage experiences have you had – either literal or metaphorical?
2. How have pilgrimage experiences informed your faith journey?
3. Have you encountered theologies/spiritual practices different than your own that informed your own faith?

“One Foot in Front of Another” with Troy Fisher and the OUUC Choir

This “music service” is a call for connection in troubled times. It is about persistence, community and moving ahead. “One foot in front of the other” is a metaphor for determination and forward motion. Warriors like Martin Luther King, Nelson Mandela, Mother Teresa, Ghandhi, Dolores Huerta, started their movements out of the love of their people not out of the hatred of someone else.

OUUC Opportunity of the Week: the FUUN team! This will be a new team, not in existence yet, that will seek to create and support social and fun events for us. Joy is resistance too. If you are interested in creating fun for OUUC, talk to Rev. Sara.

Today in the commons, look for the Cottage Meeting postcards with the Welcome Team! Cottage Meetings are small, intimate group gatherings where, for about 90 minutes, we'll enjoy refreshments and meaningful conversations about what OUUC means to each of us and the future we envision for our beloved congregation. There are many sessions to choose from, with different dates, times and locations. Sign up now! Wednesday, January 7th at 7:00pm, the OUUC Choir starts rehearsing again here in the sanctuary! Is this your year to join the choir? If so, show up on Wednesday, or speak with our Music Director, Troy Fisher.
